PRESS RELEASE

TRINITY, N.C. July 2010 — Trinity Furniture announced today that the BIFMA e3-2008 Sustainability Standard certification was received last month for the FACELIFT Collection at Level 1. The BIFMA certification means that production facilities, organizational policies and component materials of the products themselves meet all of the necessary qualifications to comply with the industry's most comprehensive sustainability standard.

With this certification, Trinity joins a very small elite group of institutional furniture manufacturers that have achieved this level of sustainability for their products.

Although pleased with gaining this certification, Trinity's goal is to have 100% of their products meet the sustainability requirement by the end of 2010.

During Neocon 2010, the international exhibition of business / institutional furniture, annually held in Chicago, all FACELIFT Collection introductions met the rigorous Sustainability Standard certification.

Established in 1984, Trinity Furniture remains a family owned business that is firmly committed to producing thoughtfully designed furniture, intelligently engineered and crafted to the highest level of quality. With two manufacturing facilities staffed with 100 highly skilled craftsmen, Trinity's onsite capabilities encompass all facets of furniture manufacturing; wood frame production, cloth cutting and sewing, upholstering, and shipping. Our namesake, Trinity, North Carolina continues to provide a valuable resource of highly skilled and motivated craftsmen that fulfills our commitment to offering products that are proudly made in the United States of America.

While originally being the principal supplier of seating and tables to noted Federal agencies such as the House of Representatives, the Architect of the Capitol and the U.S. District Courts, Trinity has evolved over the last 15 years to provide traditional and transitional styled furniture for executive, public, healthcare and judicial spaces. While receiving numerous design awards and distinctions, our success is ultimately measured by the continued acceptance of our products by architects, interior designers and facility managers. To achieve this we have always adhered to a simple philosophy; to provide well designed quality made furniture for a reasonable price with a high level of customer service.
